MGR making it count

Anthony Cappy has come full circle opening a new branch of the accounting firm MGR in Forest Street Castlemaine. He began his career as a teenager sitting in the same building while doing work experience for his father Joe Cappy who ran a real estate agency from the premises for 50 years. "I started out here and now I'm back. Dad was pretty stoked," Anthony said. The newly renovated office opened its doors five weeks ago and Anthony is primed to offer a range of business services to the Castlemaine area. With other offices in Bendigo, Echuca and Elmore the firm has earned a reputation as a trusted central Victorian company and Anthony is looking forward to strengthening that position. MGR Accountants is an innovative and proactive accounting and business advisory firm offering services to a range of clients from individuals to business owners, including primary producers. The firm has consistently featured in the Business Review Weekly's top 100 accounting firms in Australia and works to build lifelong relationships with clients to help their business grow. As part of the MGR Advisory Group, MGR offers tax and accounting, financial planning, auditing, information technology and bookkeeping services. "We have also noticed a recent trend in clients wanting to take control of their retirement savings, leading to growth in the self-managed superannuation (SMSF) area," Anthony said. "MGR is able to assist with establishment and all ongoing SMSF administration requirements. "We are big enough to handle the most technical matters but small enough to guarantee you personal service. "No job is too big or too small and our clients span a broad range of industries. "Over time we have developed considerable expertise with several industries including primary producers, builders and the associated trades, retailers, cafes/restaurants and medical practitioners. "We help you minimise the cost of compliance and we will sit down with you and make sure your accounting software matches your business needs with your level of accounting skill." MGR can also train their clients to use accountancy software packages. The firm's philosophy strives to provide a proactive, quality advice. "Our core values include integrity, expertise and confidentiality. We offer a lot more than just basic accounting and tax compliance services," Anthony said.
